

XM Radio is a great traveling companion for the highways. I know the channels and what they offer, it is a great convenience to obtain traffic and weather information for cities that I travel to. I can get this information in time to plan, way before I get in range of local stations. With local only radio I often cannot get this information simply because I don't know what station to monitor.

When I am at home I listen to my favorite local stations and not XM, as it has it draw backs on reception.

I do vigorously oppose HR 4026.

Respectfully,
Richard Denham
